NOTICE OF APPROVAL FOR REAL-TIME TEXT REPORT AND ORDER REQUIREMENTS SUBJECT TO THE PAPERWORK REDUCTION ACT

CG Docket Nos. 15-178 and 16-145

On December 16, 2016, the Federal Communications Commission (Commission) amended its rules to permit wireless service providers and equipment manufacturers to support real-time text (RTT) technology in lieu of continuing to support TTY technology.¹ In the RTT Report and Order, among other things, the Commission established RTT outreach guidelines and extended the requirements for service providers who were granted interim TTY rule waivers to provide notices to consumers and to file reports every six months.² These provisions resulted in new information collection requirements under the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995.³ On December 21, 2017, notice was published in the Federal Register that the new information collection requirements were approved by the Office of Management and Budget.⁴
